

Quaker United Nations Office Summer School

7—18 July 2025, Online via Zoom

Are you 20-26 years old* and eager to learn about international solidarity movements, coalition-building and UN engagement from a civil society perspective? Would you like to gain practical skills in advocacy, quiet diplomacy methods, coalition-building and insights from professionals engaged in multilateralism?

Come together this summer for our summer intensive to learn about Quaker work at the international level and the work of the United Nations. Throughout our 10-day programme, skill-building workshops will equip you with the essential skills to be a young changemaker in today's world.

Participants will enjoy 4-hour learning days (14:00 - 18:00 CET) from Monday to Friday.

Application forms & further information are available at:
